PRECINCT OFFICIAL RECRUITMENT

Pursuant to Hawaii Revised Statutes §11-72, all qualified political parties shall submit names to the Chief Election Officer by a statutory deadline. The recruitment deadline for the upcoming elections is May 26, 2000. Precinct officials recruited by their respective political parties have first priority when being assigned to specific precincts. You are encouraged to call the political party of your choice to volunteer your services as a precinct official.

The Office of Elections conducts Open Recruitment beginning in April of an election year. In the event all positions are not filled by political party recruitment by the statutory deadline, HRS § 11-72 gives the Chief Election Officer the authority to fill the vacancies with any qualified person, without regard to political party affiliation.

Mailouts to former precinct officials, public service announcements in the various media, and presentations by the Office of Elections staff ensure the required number of precinct officials to fully staff the polling places on election day.

HOW WILL I KNOW WHAT TO DO ON ELECTION DAY?

Everyone is required to attend at least one training session and pass a certification exam. Precinct Officials will be instructed in the standard operating procedures for each station within the precinct. Your Precinct Chair will assign you to rotate through all the stations during the day and to any additional duties that may be required.

Precinct Chairs and Voter Assistance Officials will also attend a special procedures class. Before the General Election, Precinct Chairs and Voter Assistance Officials will attend a briefing to review General Election procedures and pick up their precinct supply box.

WHEN IS TRAINING?

Training sessions are held between June and September. The Precinct Operations staff will schedule you to attend a convenient training session in your area.

WHERE WILL I WORK?

State Law requires Precinct Officials to work in the precinct in which they vote. However, if no vacancy exists within your precinct, you will be placed in a precinct within your district. If no vacancy exists within your district, you will be placed in a neighboring district. The earlier you volunteer to work, the better your chances for working close to home!
